SHOW PRIDE IN PORTERVILLE CAMPAIGN MOVES IN HIGH GEAR

PORTERVILLE — The Show Pride In Porterville week - April 20-25 - is in high gear with individuals and organizations cleaning up, painting up, building up, and just plain making Porterville look brighter.

Porterville college students have worked the college campus area and south Main street cleaning up debris; Girl Scouts and Brownies are going house-to-house distributing bags to go inside garbage cans and are also picking up trash around the Barn theater, City Park and Municipal Golf course area, as well as planting flowers in Murry park.

Porterville Elks lodge members will clean up the Mentz property adjacent to the city library; Golden Age club members will paint the clubhouse building in South park; Steve Bills, city recreation director, is supervising a large group of young baseball players in cleaning up and painting up the municipal ball park; Bellevue school students and the SCE group from Porterville High school are cleaning up railroad rights-of-way; other clean-up projects are being handled by the Key club, Cub

NO SOPHOMORE JINX FOR PORTERVILLE'S DICK BROOKS

If there's such a thing as a sophomore jinx in stock car racing, then someone forgot to tell hard-charging Dick Brooks about it.

Brooks, the 28-year-old ex-truck driver from Porterville, California, won NASCAR's Rookie of the Year honors in 1969 and in the first two superspeedway events of the 1970 season he demonstrated that it was no accident that NASCAR picked him as the most promising newcomer to the sport last season.

At the Daytona 500, Brooks'

No. 32 Plymouth SuperBird was one of the strongest running independent cars and, until the late stages of the race when he blew an engine, he was riding with the front-runners with a good shot to win.

In the Carolina 500 at Rockingham, N.C., March 8, Brooks put his SuperBird in the fifth starting position, the quickest qualifier among the Plymouth cars. He finished third at Rockingham with relief help from accomplished pro Neil "Soapy" Castles, ahead of the factory cars of Bobby Allison and Pete Hamilton.

"We've still got a lot to learn and we are working on it," Brooks says, "My major goal this year is to lead as many races as I can and win some."

Sponsored by a San Jose, California, soap company, Bestline Products, Inc., Brooks' very sanitary race car already has assumed darkhorse rankings on the big tracks. His hopes for the 1970 season might be nearing reality.

Like most of the successful young drivers in big time stock

THE PHONE BOOTH

Whenever we talk, we vibrate the air between us and the person we're talking to. The mouthpiece of your telephone changes the air vibrations into electrical impulses which travel to the other telephone receiver. There the electrical waves are converted back into sound waves which are uniquely your own. Unseen, however, in this process are the billions of miles of wire and millions of switches which could be used to direct your vibrations to the single phone, of the more than 200 million telephones in the world, that you selected. With millions of calls a day, it takes a lot of good switching to make sure you get good vibrations.

Be sure and join us on radio for the San Francisco Giants' exciting baseball games. Pacific Telephone is one of the sponsors who'll be keeping you up on the action throughout the season. Sportscasters Russ Hodges, Lon Simmons and Bill Thompson will be giving you handy tips on the use of your telephone.

Dear Mr. Editor Rogers:

I am puzzled, and since your editorial comments are the source of same, I turn to you.

When Porterville was the scene of a peace march, you intimated that by their actions the marchers had given aid and comfort to the enemy.

I very much disagree, but your opinion has support from varied people for various reasons, as does my position that any war is bad, especially this one.

But what, pray tell, did the people involved in the Survival Walk ever do to cause you to be rude in print?

Is this the way the friendly little town of Porterville greets its visitors? People whose only purpose was to bring attention to an almost irreversible problem of environment?

I am truly sorry for you sir, and anyone who thinks that your ill-chosen comments are cute.

Editorial Comment

PERHAPS WE ALL MADE A MISTAKE

The ecology of sensitivity might well have been the theme of an incident on the Porterville High School campus April 8 - an incident perpetrated by one of the Survival Walk participants who was ostensibly on the campus to assist with presentation of information related to efforts to clean up the nation's air, water, and general environment.

Six high school girls were involved in the incident. As told to police investigators, the script went about like this:

After attending a motion picture shown by the Survival Walkers, groups of students were formed on the lawn outside the Memorial auditorium. The six girls involved made up one group, the members of which were told to wrap their arms around the person next to them, to hold hands, to be friendly.

Lecture by the Survival Walker was along the line of peace and love, and nothing was said about contamination of the environment.

When the girls attempted to leave, the Survival Walker informed the girls that their problem was "too f----- many hang ups."

The girls were then asked to sit in a circle. The Survival Walker sat down behind one of the girls, his legs extended on each side of her, his hands on her shoulders and back. When this girl tried to get up, he held her there. Finally she was able to get up and to get away from him.

All six of the girls were pretty well shaken by then. They reported the incident to school officials. Question of whether to file charges against the Survival Walker, either by parents or by the school, was later discussed. The decision was to file no charges.

That's the briefed report from police records.

We are not going to question the decision of the parents or of school officials, because going into court on this kind of case would be most unpleasant, and quite likely a losing cause, what with modern law interpretation and far-out attorneys rallying to the defense.

The question does arise, however, as to how long honest citizens are going to allow themselves to be pushed around by kooks who shield their disruptive social actions behind a most worthy cause.

Perhaps several mistakes were made concerning the Survival Walkers: Perhaps the City of Porterville made a mistake in more or less offering hospitality to the Survival Walkers; perhaps directors of the Porterville Fair, of which we are one, made a mistake in approving use of the fair grounds by the group; perhaps school officials made a mistake by allowing the Survival Walkers to come on campus.

At any rate, we suggest that in the future such marching groups as this be discouraged from letting the sun set on them in Porterville.

As for ecology, as for action to improve the situation in regard to air, water and general environmental pollution, there are legitimate sources of information and programs.

Let's go along with those persons representing the legitimate sources. Let's not trust any kind of marchers again.

One of the ways we're contributing to cleaner air:

Locked in these fuel pellets, which contain uranium, is an incredible amount of energy.

For instance, one cubic foot of Uranium 235 will generate more electricity than 32 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

At Edison, we've been using uranium fuel pellets like these for the past two years. The energy they release spins the giant turbine that makes electricity at the San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station.

This peaceful use of the atom means a dependable source of low-cost electricity for our customers. It also means progress without adding to Southern California's environmental problems. With nuclear power plants, maintaining clean air is not a problem. Neither is radiation. No one has ever been injured by radiation from any commercial nuclear power plant in the United States. And plants have been operating for more than 12 years. After all, even President and Mrs. Nixon live next door to a nuclear plant when they're at the "Western White House" in San Clemente. It's less than 3 miles from San Onofre.

In the years ahead, Edison will build more nuclear power units to meet the critical need for more electricity — now doubling about every 8 years. Engineering and design work is underway now for two additional units at San Onofre. They are scheduled for commercial operation in 1976 and 1977. Thereafter, the only major generating facilities Edison will build in the South Coast Basin will be nuclear units. We make this commitment as part of our continuing efforts toward a cleaner, more attractive environment for everyone.

To us, that's important.

DICK BROOKS

car racing, Brooks has been working around the clock for nearly 10 years to become "an overnight sensation."

"I started drag racing around home in 1960 and collected a bunch of seconds. Then I decided to be a great motorcycle star, but I couldn't grow hide fast enough. I liked the feeling of going sideways," he recalled.

As soon as he was 21, Brooks started racing in the Northern California bull rings. "I bought a car and took it straight to Bakersfield, but it wouldn't run because the cam was gone."

Brooks ran claimers in the figure 8 circuit for a while and then drove a semi-modified for a friend.

During his early racing days he continued to drive a logging truck to put bread on the table.

In 1968, he put together a highly successful season in his hobby racing, winning 11 of 13 races. That season was to give him a platform to plunge into the big time.

A high school friend of Brooks', Jerry Brassfield, had embarked on a highly successful business, Bestline Products, Inc. The company started on an $8,000 investment and now has a gross in the millions annually. Brassfield and his partner, Bill Bailey, remembered Brooks and decided to help him get started in his racing career.

"About a month before the 1969 Riverside 500, Jerry called and said he would be willing to help with sponsorship. We put together some facts about the cost and then bought a car and engine from Mario Rossi. Then we went racing," Brooks said.

The early days of his career were filled with mistakes. "I should have been in the South half of a month or so before we started racing - shaking hands and finding out how the other drivers operate. Then when we went to Daytona, we went first class instead of economizing along the way. We could have saved a lot of money."

But maybe he did it the right way after all. If he had known what he was up against, the California bull rings might have looked a little bit better.

"We really didn't know very much about the car. We didn't even know some of the pieces were on it until they started falling off," he said.

Because of knowing Rossi, Brooks felt Spartanburg, S.C., would be a good place to establish a base of operations. He did and quickly began making an impression on the NASCAR scene.

The husky 5-foot-10 driver, who weighs in at about 190 pounds, drove in 25 races in his first season in NASCAR. He finished in the top five twice and put the 1968 Plymouth in the top 10 on 10 different occasions. His best finish was third in the Western North Carolina 500 at Asheville-Weaverville Speedway.

At the prestige laden Southern 500 at Darlington, S.C., Brooks was selected rookie of the race by the writers covering the event.

With a successful first year behind him, Brooks set out to take his giant second step for 1970. His deal with Bestline continued and he was able to take a new Plymouth SuperBird to Daytona.

"We learned a tremendous lot that first year and Daytona was a lot easier. The hardest thing was to learn how to drive in traffic going as fast as we were. I had been running about 175 at the Beach last year and this year we ran 188. That extra speed makes a lot of difference."

"Another thing I noticed right away was just how much easier things were. We knew where to go to get things and

Scout-O-Rama Set May 9 At Fair Grounds

VISALIA - Cub Scout Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Explorer Scout Posts are readying their demonstrations, talents, and exhibits for the Fifth Annual Scout-O-Rama scheduled for May 9 at the Tulare County fairgrounds in Visalia, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Wes Kottmeier, Jr. of Visalia, general chairman, reports 60 of the 118 Packs, Troops, and Posts who to ask if we needed help," he said.

Brooks' team was stronger for more reasons than just having a new car. Going into this season, he joined forces with veteran mechanic Tom Ingram, of Asheville, N.C.

"That has made a lot of difference. Tom has been racing for about eight years and he knows his way around."

Brooks readily admits that he has a lot to learn. At Rockingham he ruefully noted that during qualifications he had a lot of trouble putting a series of good laps together. "I would turn a good lap and then slow down. Right after I qualified, Tom came to me and told me I was driving too deeply into the turns. By the time the race came, I was able to run pretty consistently," Brooks said.

Brooks' athletic career was cut short at Porterville Union High School when he broke a leg sliding into third base in his freshman year. He has a good singing voice - he sang bass in a high school madrigal group of eight that won the state championship three times.

It was on a trip with the school singing group to the 1960 Winter Olympic games at Squaw Valley, California, that he met his attractive wife, Rita. "She lived right near me but I didn't know her before the trip," he recalled. They were married June 15, 1961. The Brooks and their four-year-old daughter, Stacy, live in Spartanburg, where Brooks is the hero of the apartment building.

And the way he has been running, he's picking up fans all over the South.

are taking part throughout the Mt. Whitney Council, which covers Tulare and Kings counties. About 4,100 boys are involved in both counties.

New features added this year, Kottmeier said, are bicycle relays, an obstacle course, a sawdust pile for a "dive for dough" event, a Pinewood Derby course, continuing Indian dancing as part of a stage show, a first aid station and food concession stands operated by Scouts.

Scout-O-Rama 1970 will start with a parade at 12:15 p.m. in downtown Visalia in which all Cubs, Boy Scouts, and Explorer Scouts will participate. The Tulare junior chamber of commerce will judge all parade entries and later the demonstrations and Pinewood Derby at the fairgrounds. Emphasis this year will be on pioneering and conservation.

National winners will be recognized in the Baseball Hall of Fame, at Cooperstown, New York.

Modular Scheduling At Monache High

PORTERVILLE — A pilot program in modular scheduling has been approved by the Porterville Union High School District trustees, for implementation on the Monache campus sometime during the 1970-71 school year.

The pilot program, as proposed, will schedule the student's day into 25-minute time modules rather than the standard 50-minute period, with each day beginning with a daily-demand flexible schedule. There will be 14 such modules during the school day.

It was pointed out to the governing board that under this plan of daily demand, the student is accounted for at all times. Each morning he will commit himself to his schedule for that day, and should his work in any subject fall below acceptable standards, the teacher may request additional time of the student.

D.O. Howard, assistant superintendent for instruction, pointed out that the advantages of the proposed plan are that the student may devote additional time to subjects in which he needs assistance and still carry on his other subjects in an acceptable manner.

Details of the plan are to be worked out by the administration with the assistance of the teachers and outside consultants.

New Time For Disposal Sites

VISALIA — Effective Sunday, April 26, Tulare County Refuse Disposal sites will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. for the duration of daylight savings time. They will continue to be closed on Mondays, according to Fred G. Goman, refuse disposal supervisor.

KING SALMON RUNS SHOW SHARP INCREASE

SACRAMENTO — Runs of king salmon in California's Central valley increased sharply last year, the state department of fish and game has announced. Preliminary estimates of 1969 salmon spawning escapements indicate that 322,500 salmon found their way upstream past anglers, predators, and other obstacles. This represents an increase of about 50 percent over the 1968 runs.

SPECIAL PROJECTS APPROVED BY COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

VISALIA — The County Board of Education has approved a project application to train school administrators in advance management techniques, with training handled by a Los Angeles-based management consultant firm at a cost of $9,976. Richard Parker, consultant in the County Department of Education, was appointed as coordinator of the project.

Approved also was a project application to develop a model classroom experience for pre-school trainable mentally retarded children in Tulare County. The cost would be $35,201 for the first year. Funds would be provided through an ESEA Title VI-A grant from the State Department of Education.

In a third project proposal, approved by the board, funds were requested to explore requirement capabilities for job opportunities for the educationally, physically, and mentally handicapped. The cost would be $12,500 for the first year from ESEA Title VI funds.

SKIES WERE dark above the mountains, but the weather was great for the annual Springville-Sierra rodeo over the past weekend, with above photo showing the Sunday grandstand crowd. More than 8,000 persons attended the two-day show; record attendance was reported for the Queen's Coronation ball and for the Western dance; a large crowd was on hand for the annual Rodeo parade last Saturday morning. Results of the professional show had Bill Darnell, of Fowler taking all-around cowboy honors; in bareback bronc riding Bill Freeman, of San Luis Obispo and Paul Mayo, of Grinnell, Iowa, tied for first; Mike Quick won the calf roping event; Ben Bates, of Baker, took top money in steer wrestling; Bill Hampton and Ron Dilday, of California Hot Springs, were team roping winners; Ralph Maynard, of Phoenix, Arizona, won the saddle bronc event; Bill Brazil, of Modesto, won bull riding; and Charlene Jespersen, of Hanford, won women's barrel racing. We thought that with so many parades and rodeos, and the by-products thereof, we would have no demand for fertilizer. However this past weekend we sold a record amount so we guess that no one is taking advantage of this free material. After observing the deterioration of our ancient streets we've also decided that the horse may soon be on its way back. If so, having a luxuriant yard should be relatively easy.

For you that are contemplating a return to the horse, or need a place to lean your bicycle against, we have some sturdy shade trees. These will protect man or beast from the heat of a Porterville summer. They will also provide an area that will keep the birds up off the ground. This last bit isn't important unless you have heard the song "Tennessee Bird Walk."

Barbecue time is also at hand and we have some real oak charcoal. This is still in limited supply but we'll soon have a great plenty. Guaranteed to turn out a tasty meal whether it be T-bone or cube steak. Lights easily and makes coals in no time at all. We hope you'll drop by soon on "E" Street north of Olive and give it a try. Open Sundays 10-3.

Springville Homecoming Set For May 3

SPRINGVILLE — Emphasis will be on compiling of historical records and the renewing of old friendships when Springville holds its annual Homecoming and Reunion at the Veteran's Memorial building, Sunday, May 3, starting at 12:30 p.m.

Virginia Radeleff, chairman, states that a potluck lunch will be served, with persons attending asked to bring their own table service and a hot dish, salad or dessert; the Springville chamber of commerce will furnish coffee, punch and bread.

Persons who have old pictures, old letters, or old documents of any kind involving the general Springville area, and the mountain area beyond, are asked to bring this material for display.

Members of families that have not yet been included in Springville's Historical record book are asked to bring family information - names, dates and other family material that can be left for use in the book.

Recent residents of Springville are invited to attend, as are all former residents; several "old timers" will recount early-day experiences.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

airport June 20-21. Visiting pilots will have a double shot of entertainment Saturday night, June 20, with entertainment at the airport and the rodeo at the arena.

"Somehow a rumor got started that there would be no Porterville rodeo this year," says Church, "but the Jaycees are going ahead, after a successful show last year, and that's the way it is."

Contract for rodeo stock has been signed with the Golden State Rodeo company, Church says, and sale of program advertising is getting underway.

STUDIO BAND

Orient. Composed of Porterville high school and Porterville college students, the band is probably the most active and proficient group of its kind in California.

The band will leave Porterville by bus at 10 a.m., Sunday, will play the show at 2 p.m., and return immediately after the show.

SHOW PRIDE CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Letsinger, 784-8264, or the city hall, 784-1400.

A major item of Pride in Porterville week is a free city pickup of trash and debris on Saturday. Persons desiring a pickup should phone the city hall, 784-1400, Ext. 47. Calls will be accepted only until 1 p.m., Saturday.

Virtually all city personnel are contributing time and work in some phase of the Pride in Porterville improvement effort.

Persons desiring to put in curbs and gutters should contact the city hall; this kind of improvement will be handled through the city as one project, thus reducing cost. As of yesterday, 20 requests for this type of work had been received by the city.

Heading up the Pride in Porterville campaign is City Councilman Jim Hanson; coordinator is Jerry O'Hare, assistant to the city manager.

All residents of the Porterville city and community are urged by Hanson to do something that will improve the appearance of their property during Pride in Porterville week - and to continue such efforts, as needed, throughout the year.

Cleanup campaigns are also underway now in the communities of Springville, Terra Bella and Strathmore.

celebration, May 2-3, with Isaac Gonzales, general chairman, stating that the usual "big day" is set for Sunday, May 3, at the Porterville Municipal ball park, when the American flag and the Mexican flag will be raised in official ceremonies at 8 a.m., with color guards provided by Porterville Post 20, The American Legion, and by Camarena's Rangers.

Children and adult games will get underway at 10 a.m. in the ball park, with Frank Olmos and Ron Frankum working as chairmen. At 1 p.m. the Mariachi Caballeros, from Bakersfield, will play and at 2 p.m., the Cinco de Mayo queen, and her court, will make their grand entrance.
